bachelor thesis from the year 2018 in the subject economics international economic relations grade 2.0 ruhr university of bochum wirtschaftswissenschaft language english abstract the aim of this bachelor's thesis is to answer the question whether brexit has negatively or positively affected the financial markets and why the first two chapters will present the foundations for this thesis namely more selective information about brexit how and why the vote was made and also about the financial markets and their importance since the uk's official exit from the eu will take place on march 29th 2019 it is still unclear what the consequences of brexit will be therefore the main part will focus on the period before and after the referendum tracking when brexit's influence began and how it had evolved over the years in addition a brief forecast will be given as to how the uk's withdrawal might eventually affect financial markets the three financial markets that will be a subject in this thesis are the foreign exchange market the stock market and the government bond market this bachelor's thesis will be mainly focusing on the markets inside the uk as the effects there are expected to be the most significant due to its ambiguity and topicality brexit is the subject of many studies and analysis this work will be based mainly on two studies kiel institute for the world economy's study by raddant and deutsches institut für wirtschaftsforschung's study by caporale et al through descriptive literature research and analysis of scientific literature newspaper articles and government reports will be examined how and why brexit has influenced the markets in one way or another the argumentation will be supported by daily observations of the gbp usd gbp eur ftse 100 uk epu and 10 y uk gilts in the period between january 2016 and june 2018 as well as by self created graphics based on these observations master's thesis from the year 2015 in the subject politics topic international organisations grade no grade yet university of aarhus course international studies language english abstract the unprecedented scope and implications of the 2014 ebola outbreak in west africa has confronted the international community with challenges in responding to the crisis on 19 september 2014 the first ever un emergency health mission united nations mission for ebola emergency response unmeer was established unmeer was set up as a temporary mission to bring together un agencies and capabilities in the response and closely collaborate with governments ngos member states and other relevant actors with the main strategic objective to stop the ebola outbreak this thesis investigates the effects of unmeer on the global ebola response as a whole and assesses whether the establishment of the mission was the right decision to make from the un side in response to the outbreak in this regard the context in which unmeer was established is scrutinized by examining the challenges faced in the outbreak and how these were approached by the international community the analysis is predominantly based on qualitative primary data collected through individual semi structured interviews with respondents who are or have been directly involved in the ebola response as well as on secondary data findings show that unmeer had a positive impact on the response in various respects the exceptional decision from the un side to establish the first ever emergency health mission increased worldwide awareness of the outbreak and catalysed a high level political and financial international engagement in the response furthermore there seems to be a positive attitude towards unmeer s role in bringing together un agencies under a single structure in the response as well as the logistics support provided by unmeer to un agencies and other partners working in the response however due to a lack of presence and a limited number of staff in the affected countries effective collaboration with organizations involved on the ground did not sufficiently materialize findings indicate that overall responders were not satisfied with unmeer s impact on the ground this seems to be rooted in i a a significant gap between responders expectations and perceptions of unmeer due to lack of clear information from unmeer s side on what exactly could be expected of the mission drawing on research findings and lessons learned from the outbreak instead existing resources and systems under the un office for the coordination of of humanitarian affairs ocha should have been reinforced
